Evie was a doctor with a simple ambition in life: help people. One night at a staff function she met a man that was mysterious, intriguing, and somehow she could sense that he was dangerous. Before she realizes it, Evie is swept up into a world that only seemed to exist in movies and the man that has swept her up only existed in her dreams.

Charmed by the Wicked Billionaire

Nya was a woman with a simple ambition in life: save the largest life form in the ocean. But her only chance at success was through the Carver Group, a corporate entity with money enough to buy anything. The chance of a lifetime is granted and she takes to it with vigor she did not know she had aboard a floating research lab. But she soon learns that not everything on the boat is dedicated to science. Some of what goes on is given over to passion that she had never really fathomed... and can't wait to try.

Dane Carver is her congenial host and the owner of the vessel that Nya is aboard and the Group that owns it. He is not at all the billionaire that most people would suspect, nor is typical in the attitudes of such. But Nya fascinates him in a way that he did not realize to be possible. A scientist himself, Dane quickly discovers that with Nya some new experimentation might be necessary.
