In today's dangerous society, more and more citizens are becoming armed citizens; the safety of oneself or one's family and loved ones abolishes any negative contentions you may have when it comes to firearms. The wolves are out there, and you want to be ready. This is how most of us feel when we decide to invest in a firearm for our personal security doctrine; it is analogous to a fire extinguisher in your home. If you need it, it's there. So you bought a gun, do you really think you are armed now? Do you really think you can manipulate that firearm under dynamic stress at 3 A.M. when the alarm of your house is wailing away and an armed intruder has broken into your home? Are you going to be a liability or an asset to your family's security at that point? You bought a gun and you think you are ready, but are you truly ready? The purpose of this book is to provide the average armed law abiding citizen with knowledge relative to firearms training, and its imperativeness. Whether it be in your home, or out on the street with a carry permit, if you haven't trained with your firearm enough to be able to efficiently and effectively manipulate it under the type of stress your body physiologically undergoes in a life or death/fight or flight situation, you are carrying a paper weight with bullets in it. So if you're serious about becoming an asset to society when you use a gun defensively, purchase this book and learn why, and how. Serious firearm owners read on.... Get ahead and stop being a liability today!
